

Marketplace Exchange

There may be other coverage options for you and your family. You can buy coverage through the Health Insurance Marketplace and you can obtain information about it at www.healthcare.gov. In the Marketplace, you could be eligible for a new kind of tax credit that could offer lower premiums right away and you can see what your premium, deductible and other coverage costs will be before you can make a decision to enroll.