

Construction workforce opportunities with the

CTA and Red Line Extension

The Red Line Extension is a $3.6 billion transit improvement project that will extend the Red Line from its current terminal at 95th station to 130th near Altgeld Gardens. The project includes building new stations at 103rd, 111th, Michigan/116th and 130th, with parking and bus and bicycle access and a new rail yard and maintenance shop at 120th.

Over the years, CTA has required workforce participation goals on major construction projects, to create a path for underrepresented and residents of economically disadvantaged areas to career opportunities in the building trades, union apprenticeships and other construction-related jobs. Take the steps now with CTA to begin or advance your career!

How to get started? Contact any of our workforce partner agencies listed here. They assist with:

Our pre-apprenticeship partners (Chicago Women In Trades, Metropolitan Family Services, & Revolution Workshop) provide resources and training to prepare individuals who meet at least one CTA's workforce goals to enter into US Dept. of Labor-approved apprenticeship programs. Our workforce placement partners (Chicago Women In Trades & HIRE360) connect individuals with jobs on CTA and other construction projects based on CTA contract workforce goals. Get started on your career now by contacting our partners or scanning our QR code!

Second Chance Program

CTA's Second Chance Program is a nationally recognized program that provides valuable job skills and career opportunities to Chicago residents who often face challenges re-entering the workforce.

The Second Chance Program takes a holistic approach to preparing individuals to be self-sufficient. It not only provides jobs to returning citizens, victims of abuse and others who face barriers to employment, but also offers a wide range of training, education, mentoring and networking opportunities.
